

West Coast Community Bancorp Announces Earnings and Dividend for the First Quarter of 2026

SANTA CRUZ, Calif. – April 21, 2026: West Coast Community Bancorp (“Bancorp,” OTCQX: WCCB), the parent company of West Coast Community Bank (the “Bank”), announced unaudited earnings for the quarter ended March 31, 2026, of $15.0 million, compared to $13.8 million in the fourth quarter of 2025 and $11.7 million in the quarter ended March 31, 2025.

Basic and diluted earnings per share (“EPS”) for the quarter ended March 31, 2026, were $1.45 and $1.43, respectively, which increased $0.13 and $0.12 from $1.32 and $1.31, respectively, compared to the fourth quarter of 2025. Basic and diluted EPS increased $0.34 and $0.33 from $1.11 and $1.10, respectively, compared to the first quarter of 2025.

On April 15, 2026, the Bancorp Board of Directors declared a $0.01 increase in quarterly cash dividend to $0.24 per common share, payable on May 11, 2026, to shareholders of record at the close of business on May 5, 2026.

“Our first quarter results reflect continued earnings momentum, attractive returns and ongoing balance sheet strength. Core loan growth remained solid, capital and liquidity levels were strong, and our team executed effectively in a competitive environment,” said Krista Snelling, Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of West Coast Community Bancorp.

“Given our strong earnings momentum, capital position and continued growth in tangible book value, the Board’s decision to increase the dividend reflects confidence in the durability of our performance and our ability to deliver consistent value to shareholders,” added Snelling.

Financial Highlights

Performance highlights as of and for the quarter and year ended March 31, 2026, include the following:

- Net income for the quarter ended March 31, 2026, increased $1.2 million, or 8.8%, from the fourth quarter of 2025, primarily attributed to a $359 thousand reversal of credit losses in the first quarter of 2026, compared to a $1.5 million provision for credit losses in the fourth quarter of 2025, as well as higher levels of noninterest income stemming from a $912 thousand gain on the sale of $8.9 million of non-core residential loans acquired from the merger with 1st Capital Bancorp and a $368 thousand special dividend received on our holdings of Federal Home Loan Bank (“FHLB”) of San Francisco stock. Credit losses of $258 thousand were reversed upon the sale of the non-core acquired loans in the first quarter of 2026. These favorable changes were partially offset by a $362 thousand decrease in net interest income (primarily due to two fewer number of interest-earning days in the first quarter of 2026 compared to the fourth quarter of 2025) and a $247 thousand increase in noninterest expense. The increase in earnings from the same quarter of 2025 was largely driven by increases in net interest income and noninterest income, as well as a slight reversal of provision for credit losses in the first quarter of 2026 compared to a provision for credit losses in the first quarter of 2025.
- Total loans were $2.22 billion at March 31, 2026, compared to $2.17 billion at December 31, 2025, and $2.11 billion at March 31, 2025, representing an increase of $46.8 million, or 2.2% from December 31, 2025, and an increase of $114.0 million, or 5.4%, from March 31, 2025. Loan growth during the first quarter of 2026 was most notable in commercial revolving lines of credit, especially agriculture-related businesses sourced from our new San Luis Obispo team. The organic loan growth during the first quarter of 2026 was partially offset by the sale of $8.9 million residential loans noted above and a transfer of a $10.0 million land development loan to other real estate owned ("OREO").

- Total assets were $2.90 billion at March 31, 2026, compared to $2.88 billion at December 31, 2025, and $2.66 billion at March 31, 2025, representing an increase of $11.4 million, or 0.4%, from December 31, 2025, and $236.8 million, or 8.9%, from March 31, 2025. The quarter-over-quarter increase in total assets is largely attributed to a $46.8 million increase in loans held for investment, partially offset by a $29.2 million decrease in cash and cash equivalents and a $13.4 million decrease in available for sale ("AFS") debt securities. The year-over-year increase in total assets is largely attributed to a $114.0 million increase in loans held for investment and a $116.5 million increase in cash and cash equivalents.
- Total deposits were $2.47 billion at March 31, 2026, compared to $2.48 billion at December 31, 2025, and $2.26 billion at March 31, 2025, representing a slight decrease of $2.8 million, or 0.1%, from December 31, 2025, and an increase of $218.0 million, or 9.7%, from March 31, 2025. The slight decrease from December 31, 2025, is attributed to the seasonal outflows associated with agriculture and non-profit depositors. The increase from March 31, 2025, was driven by new banking relationships established over the last year.
- Primary liquidity ratio, defined as cash and cash equivalents, deposits held in other banks and unpledged AFS securities as a percentage of total assets, was 14.4%, 15.9% and 11.8% at March 31, 2026, December 31, 2025 and March 31, 2025, respectively.
- Taxable equivalent net interest margin was 5.11%, 4.99% and 5.29% for the quarters ended March 31, 2026, December 31, 2025, and March 31, 2025, respectively. The quarter-over-quarter increase in the net interest margin is largely attributed to the absence of $864 thousand of accelerated purchase discount accretion associated with the partial early redemption of $4.3 million of subordinated debt in the fourth quarter of 2025, which reduced the taxable equivalent net interest margin by approximately 12 basis points during the fourth quarter of 2025. The year-over-year decrease in the taxable equivalent net interest margin is largely attributed to the change in the overall composition of interest-earning assets, with a higher percentage of average interest-earning cash and due from banks balances during the first quarter of 2026 when compared to the prior year, as well as lower purchase discount accretion on acquired loans during the first quarter of 2026 compared to the first quarter of 2025. The taxable equivalent net interest margin excluding the purchase discount accretion on the acquired loan portfolio and accelerated purchase discount accretion associated with the partial early redemption of subordinated debt for the quarters ended March 31, 2026, December 31, 2025 and March 31, 2025, was 4.84%, 4.80% and 4.86%, respectively.
- The cost of funds was 1.28%, 1.46% and 1.32% for the quarters ended March 31, 2026, December 31, 2025, and March 31, 2025, respectively. The quarter-over-quarter decrease in the cost of funds is largely attributed to the absence of $864 thousand of accelerated purchase discount accretion associated with the partial early redemption of subordinated debt in the fourth quarter of 2025, as mentioned above. This had a negative impact of 14 basis points to the cost of funds during the fourth quarter of 2025. The year-over-year decrease in the cost of funds can be attributed in large part to lower rates paid on deposit accounts, especially money market deposit accounts, responding to the three 25-basis-point interest rate cuts by the Federal Open Market Committee ("FOMC") in late 2025. For the quarters ended March 31, 2026, December 31, 2025, and March 31, 2025, the cost of deposits was 1.25%, 1.29% and 1.28%, respectively.
- Return on average equity ("ROAE") was 15.76%, 14.55% and 13.83% for the quarters ended March 31, 2026, December 31, 2025, and March 31, 2025, respectively. Return on average assets ("ROAA") was 2.12%, 1.88% and 1.78% for the quarters ended March 31, 2026, December 31, 2025, and March 31, 2025, respectively. Return on average tangible equity ("ROATE"), a non-GAAP measure, was 19.75%, 18.46% and 18.34% for the quarters ended March 31, 2026, December 31, 2025 and March 31, 2025, respectively.

- The efficiency ratio, a non-GAAP measure, was 43.59%, 44.12% and 46.48% for the quarters ended March 31, 2026, December 31, 2025, and March 31, 2025, respectively.
- All capital ratios were above regulatory requirements for a well-capitalized institution with a total risk-based capital ratio of 14.65%, 14.39% and 14.23% at March 31, 2026, December 31, 2025, and March 31, 2025, respectively. The tangible common equity to tangible asset ratio was 11.49%, 11.10% and 10.75% at March 31, 2026, December 31, 2025 and March 31, 2025, respectively.
- Tangible book value per share, a non-GAAP measure, was $30.98, $29.85 and $26.32 at March 31, 2026, December 31, 2025 and March 31, 2025, respectively. The increase in the first quarter of 2026 was driven by net income of $15.0 million combined, partially offset by a $1.6 million increase in post-tax unrealized losses on the AFS debt securities portfolio and cash dividends declared and paid of approximately $2.4 million.

Interest Income, Interest Expense and Net Interest Margin

Net interest income was $34.1 million for the quarter ended March 31, 2026, representing a decrease of $362 thousand, or 1.1%, from $34.4 million from the quarter ended December 31, 2025, and an increase of $1.7 million, or 5.4%, from $32.3 million for the quarter ended March 31, 2025.

The decrease in net interest income in the first quarter of 2026 was attributed to a $1.8 million decrease in interest income, partially offset by a decrease of $1.4 million in interest expense. The quarter-over-quarter decrease in interest income was driven by a $1.1 million decrease in interest on loans and a decrease of approximately $696 thousand in interest income on interest-earning cash and due from banks balances and investment securities. The quarter-over-quarter decrease in interest on loans can be attributed to a 12-basis-point decrease in the average yield on loans in addition to two fewer days in the quarter to earn interest. The decline in yield can be largely attributed to an approximately $436 thousand decrease in purchase discount accretion on acquired loans. Additionally, loan products indexed to prime rate repriced downward in response to the 25-basis-point December reduction in the Federal Funds target rate. The decline in the purchase discount accretion and the impact of the FOMC's rate cut were partially offset by an increase in average loan volumes. The quarter-over-quarter decrease in interest income on interest-earning cash and due from banks balances and investment securities is attributable to a decline in average volumes in addition to a 28-basis-point decrease in yield on interest-earning cash and due from banks balances. The quarter-over-quarter decrease in interest expense was in part driven by the absence of $864 thousand of accelerated purchase discount accretion associated with the partial early redemption of subordinated debt that occurred in the fourth quarter of 2025. Additionally, a four-basis-point decrease in the cost of deposits resulted in a $535 thousand quarter-over-quarter decline in interest expense on deposits.

The year-over-year increase in net interest income is attributed to a $2.0 million increase in interest income, partially offset by a $287 thousand increase in interest expense. The year-over-year increase in interest income is attributed to higher average balances of interest-earning due from cash balances in the first quarter of 2026, as compared to the first quarter of 2025, as well as higher average yields on investment securities during the first quarter of 2026, as compared to the same period in 2025, the combination of which contributed $1.2 million to the year-over-year increase in interest income. In addition, loan growth over the last year contributed to higher average loan balances in the first quarter of 2026, as compared to the same period in 2025. Average loan balances were approximately $106.5 million higher in the first quarter of 2026, when compared to the first quarter of 2025, contributing to a $765 thousand year-over-year increase in interest on loans. The year-over-year growth in loan balances more than offset an approximate $868 thousand decrease in purchase discount accretion on acquired loans. The year-over-year increase in interest expense is attributable to higher average deposit balances in the first quarter of 2026, as compared to the first quarter of 2025. Average deposit balances were approximately $183.6 million higher in the first quarter of 2026, as compared to the first quarter of 2025, contributing to an approximate $404 thousand year-over-year increase in interest expense on deposits. The cost of deposits was 1.25% for the first quarter of 2026, compared to 1.28% for the first quarter of 2025.

The following table compares interest income, average interest-earning assets, interest expense, average interest-bearing liabilities, net interest income, net interest margin and cost of funds for each period presented:

(1) Interest income on investment securities, interest income on loans, net interest income and net interest margin are presented here on a ncial Measures for more information.

(2) GAAP interest income on investment securities totaled $3.4 million, $3.8 million and $3.2 million for the quarters ended March 31, 2026, December 31, 2025, and March 31, 2025, respectively. GAAP yield on investment securities was 3.51%, 3.51% and 3.27% for the quarters ended March 31, 2026, December 31, 2025, and March 31, 2025, respectively. GAAP interest income on loans totaled $37.1 million, $38.2 million and $36.3 million for the quarters ended March 31, 2026, December 31, 2025, and March 31, 2025, respectively. For the quarters ended March 31, 2026, December 31, 2025, and March 31, 2025, GAAP yield on loans was 6.91%, 7.04% and 7.12%, respectively. Total GAAP interest income was $41.8 million, $43.6 million and $39.8 million with a resulting earning asset yield of 6.25%, 6.30% and 6.48% for the quarters ended March 31, 2026, December 31, 2025, and March 31, 2025, respectively.

Noninterest Income and Expense

Noninterest income for the quarter ended March 31, 2026, was $2.7 million, compared to $1.3 million for the quarter ended December 31, 2025, and $1.0 million for the quarter ended March 31, 2025. The quarter-over-quarter increase in noninterest income is largely attributed to a $912 thousand gain on the sale of $8.9 million of non-core loans acquired in the merger with 1st Capital Bancorp, as well as a special dividend received on our holdings of FHLB of San Francisco stock in the amount of $368 thousand and gains on the sale of investment securities totaling $97 thousand.

The year-over-year increase in noninterest income is primarily attributable to the $912 thousand gain on the sale of non-core loans discussed above, the $368 thousand special dividend received on our holdings of FHLB of San Francisco stock and $97 thousand in gains on the sale of investment securities in the first quarter of 2026, compared to $257 thousand of losses recorded on the sale of investment securities during the first quarter of 2025.

Noninterest expense for the quarter ended March 31, 2026, was $16.0 million, compared to $15.8 million for the quarter ended December 31, 2025, and $15.5 million for the quarter ended March 31, 2025. The quarter-over-quarter increase in noninterest expense can be attributed to higher professional fees incurred in preparation to become an SEC registrant, slightly higher salaries and employee benefits and other seasonal expenses. The increase in salaries and employee benefits is primarily attributed to higher seasonal payroll taxes, group insurance costs and commissions expense associated with increased loan production.

These increases were partially offset by lower quarter-over-quarter marketing and advertising expenses as well as lower data processing costs associated with one-time credits received from our core system processor and the absence of $201 thousand in acquisition-related expenses incurred in the fourth quarter of 2025.

The year-over-year increase in noninterest expenses is largely attributed to higher professional fees incurred in the first quarter of 2026 associated with our preparation of becoming an SEC registrant. The year-over-year increase in professional fees was partially offset by a $234 thousand decrease in data and item processing costs, stemming from credits received from our core system processor, as well as the absence of $250 thousand in acquisition related-expenses and rebranding expenses incurred in the first quarter of 2025.

Liquidity Position

The following table summarizes the Bank's liquidity for each period reported:

(Dollars in thousands)	As of
	March 31, 2026	December 31, 2025	March 31, 2025
Cash and cash equivalents	$ 161,514	$ 190,678	$ 45,000

Less: short-term borrowings	—	—	(20,000)
Net available liquidity sources	$ 1,647,388	$ 1,623,833	$ 1,390,935

As of March 31, 2026, net liquidity exceeded uninsured and uncollateralized deposits of $1.2 billion, with a coverage ratio of 132%.

Investment Portfolio

Securities issued by U.S. government-sponsored agencies, U.S. Treasury bonds and SBA securities accounted for 52%, 21% and 1%, respectively, of the investment portfolio as of March 31, 2026. These securities carry explicit or implicit credit guarantees from the U.S. government and thus present minimal credit or liquidity risk. Municipal bonds, corporate bonds and private-label collateralized mortgage obligations/asset-backed instruments represent 19%, 4% and 3% of the carrying value of the portfolio, respectively.

The investment portfolio totaled $377.6 million at March 31, 2026, compared to $391.2 million at December 31, 2025, and $371.3 million at March 31, 2025. The decrease in the investment portfolio from December 31, 2025, was primarily due to maturities, principal paydowns and sales outpacing purchases. Maturities, paydowns and sales totaled $21.9 million during the first quarter of 2026, while purchases totaled $9.8 million. The investment portfolio had an average life of 4.9 years as of March 31, 2026, 5.3 years as of December 31, 2025, and 5.6 years at March 31, 2025.

Net unrealized losses on AFS securities grew to $8.6 million ($6.1 million after-tax) at March 31, 2026, from $6.4 million ($4.5 million after-tax) at December 31, 2025. The increase in the net unrealized loss on the AFS portfolio during the first quarter of 2026 resulted from an increase in intermediate term interest rates negatively impacting the value of the securities. Net unrealized losses on AFS securities were $14.9 million ($10.5 million after-tax) at March 31, 2025.

Loans and Asset Quality

Gross loans, net of unaccreted purchase discount and deferred fees and costs, increased $46.8 million, or 2.2%, from December 31, 2025, and increased $114.0 million, or 5.4%, compared to March 31, 2025. Loan growth during the first quarter of 2026 was led by revolving lines of credit and commercial real estate, which collectively grew by $47.6 million. Outstanding loans made to new organic relationships established the first quarter of 2026 totaled $76.0 million at March 31, 2026. Partially offsetting the loan growth was the sale of non-core acquired loans of $8.9 million and the transfer of a $10.0 million non-accrual loan to OREO in the first quarter of 2026. New loan commitments originated during the first quarter of 2026 were $139.5 million, driven by $60.4 million in new commercial real estate commitments, in addition to $52.9 million in new commercial and industrial (“C&I”) loan commitments.

Nonaccrual loans of $10.9 million accounted for 0.5% of gross loans at March 31, 2026, compared to $14.1 million, or 0.6%, of gross loans at December 31, 2025, and $2.3 million, or 0.1%, of gross loans at March 31, 2025. Nonaccrual loan composition changed during the first quarter of 2026, primarily reflecting the transfer of a $10.0 million land development loan to OREO following foreclosure in January 2026. Upon transfer to OREO, the Bank charged-off a $3.2 million previously established specific reserve on the loan, reflective of the difference in the amortized cost of the loan and the fair value of the foreclosed property. The Bank is in the process of selling the property and seeking recourse from guarantors. At March 31, 2026, nonaccrual loans included a $5.8 million hotel relationship that consists of a $1.1 million conventional CRE loan and a $4.7 million SBA loan in addition to other SBA-related credits totaling $5.1 million. Government guarantees of $7.1 million reduced net nonaccrual exposure to $3.8 million. Accruing loans past due 30-89 days totaled $836 thousand at March 31, 2026, a decrease from $8.8 million from December 31, 2025. The decline primarily reflected the migration of the previously identified SBA hotel relationship to nonaccrual status, with no significant new additions to accruing past due balances during the quarter. There were no loans more than 90 days past due still accruing as of March 31, 2026, December 31, 2025, or March 31, 2025.

The allowance for credit losses on loans (“ACL”) was $34.7 million at March 31, 2026, or 1.56% of total loans, compared to $38.2 million at December 31, 2025, or 1.76% of total loans, and $33.1 million, or 1.57%, at March 31, 2025. The decrease in the ACL-to-loan ratio from December 31, 2025, to March 31, 2026, primarily reflected the charge-off of the previously established specific reserve of $3.2 million on the land development loan noted earlier, lower reserves on other individually analyzed loans primarily due to cash receipts on certain nonaccrual loans and other slightly favorable changes within the collectively evaluated portfolio, including the effect of the change in the loan portfolio mix post sale of the non-core residential loan pool mentioned earlier. Charge-offs accounted for approximately 15 basis points of the 20-basis-point, quarter-over-quarter decline in the reserve ratio. Besides the $3.2 million charge-off upon transfer of the land development loan to OREO, there were approximately $0.5 million of partial charge-offs of previously established specific reserves, net of $303 thousand of recoveries during the first quarter of 2026. As a result, the allowance allocated to individually evaluated loans decreased by approximately $3.9 million, from $5.0 million at December 31, 2025, to $1.1 million at March 31, 2026.

While there was provision for credit losses on loans related to organic loan growth during the first quarter of 2026, it was more than offset by a reversal of provision for credit losses of approximately $258 thousand associated with the sale of the acquired non-core residential portfolio and improvement in the specific reserves on the individually analyzed loans. Remaining quarter-over-quarter reserve changes were modest relative to the primary drivers discussed above.

The allowance on unfunded credit commitments, recorded in other liabilities, was $2.7 million, or 0.41% of unfunded credit commitments, at March 31, 2026, compared to $3.0 million, or 0.42%, at December 31, 2025. The decline in the unfunded reserve balance primarily reflected a $28 million quarter-over-quarter decrease in unfunded commitments, while the reserve rate was largely stable.

Deposits

Deposits totaled $2.47 billion at March 31, 2026, a decrease of $2.8 million compared to December 31, 2025, and an increase of $218.0 million compared to March 31, 2025. The decrease in deposits in the first quarter of 2026 is partly attributed to the distribution by a non-profit organization following a holiday fundraising campaign and deposit outflows from clients purchasing property. The deposit outflows were partially offset by new banking relationships established in the first quarter of 2026 that generated $8.6 million in deposits and more than 250 new deposit accounts. Noninterest-bearing deposits to total deposits was 39.8% at March 31, 2026, compared to 40.9% at December 31, 2025, and 42.3% at March 31, 2025. The 10 largest deposit relationships, excluding fully collateralized government agency deposits, represent approximately 14.5% of total deposits as of March 31, 2026. The Bank generally aggregates related depositors with entities and individuals that have same deposit account signers as one deposit relationship.

The following table summarizes the Bank's deposit mix:

Shareholders' Equity

Total shareholders' equity was $388.2 million at March 31, 2026, an $11.4 million, or 3.0%, increase compared to December 31, 2025, and a $42.5 million, or 12.3%, increase compared to March 31, 2025. The increase during the first quarter of 2026 was primarily due to quarterly earnings of $15.0 million, partially offset by a $1.6 million increase in the unrealized losses on the AFS debt securities portfolio, and cash dividends declared of approximately $2.4 million. The year-over-year increase in shareholders' equity is attributed to activity during the 12 months ended March 31, 2026, including net income of $53.7 million, dividends declared of $9.1 million, stock repurchases of $8.2 million, favorable changes in accumulated other comprehensive income of $4.3 million, stemming from a reduction in unrealized losses on the AFS debt securities portfolio, and other activity totaling $1.7 million primarily related to stock-based compensation.

Share Repurchase Program

On May 6, 2025, Bancorp announced the launch of a new Share Repurchase Program approved by its Board of Directors to repurchase up to $10 million of common stock in the open market or through privately negotiated transactions as market conditions warrant. Bancorp intends to fund repurchases with dividends from the Bank, as needed, and to execute repurchases in compliance with applicable federal and state securities laws and bank regulations including Rules 10b-18 and 10b5-1 as promulgated under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. The stock repurchase program may be suspended, terminated or modified at any time and will expire on June 30, 2026. The timing and amount of common stock repurchases made pursuant to the Share Repurchase Program are subject to various factors, including Bancorp's capital position, liquidity, financial performance, alternative uses of capital, stock trading price, regulatory requirements, Bancorp's blackout periods and general market conditions. Stock repurchases are accounted for as a reduction in equity. As of March 31, 2026, 198,743 shares had been repurchased at a weighted average share price of $40.92 (excluding commission and fees of $0.04 per share) for a total of $8.1 million (excluding excise taxes of $58 thousand). No stock repurchases occurred during the first quarter of 2026.

Non-GAAP Financial Measures

In addition to evaluating Bancorp's results of operations in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles ("GAAP") in the United States of America, certain non-GAAP financial measures are widely accepted by the institutional investor community. Non-GAAP measures provide the reader with additional perspectives on operating results, financial condition and performance trends, while facilitating comparisons with the performance of other financial institutions. Disclosing these non-GAAP measures is both useful internally and expected by our investors to understand the overall performance of Bancorp.

Examples of non-GAAP financial measures may include taxable equivalent net interest income, efficiency ratio, tangible common equity to tangible asset ratio and return on average tangible common equity:

- Taxable equivalent net interest income is derived by adding the tax-equivalent benefit from tax-exempt interest-earning loans and tax-exempt investment securities to total interest income and then subtracting total interest expense. The tax-equivalent benefit is derived using the federal statutory income tax rate of 21%. Taxable equivalent net interest margin is derived by dividing taxable equivalent net interest income by total interest-earning assets for the relevant period. Management considers the use of these measures to be beneficial as they allow for comparability of yields on taxable and tax-exempt assets. We believe disclosure of these measures is also consistent with standard practice within the banking industry.
- Efficiency ratio is a common comparable metric used by banks to understand the expense structure relative to total revenue. To improve the comparability of the ratio to our peers and internally across periods, certain non-recurring items may be excluded from time to time and would be noted separately.
- Tangible common equity and tangible book value per common share measures exclude the impact of intangible assets, net of deferred taxes and their related amortization. These financial measures are useful for evaluating the performance of a business consistently.
- Return on average tangible common equity is used by management and readers of our financial statements to understand how efficiently Bancorp is deploying its common equity. Companies that can demonstrate more efficient use of common equity are more likely to be viewed favorably by current and prospective investors. Return on average tangible equity is derived by adding to net income amortization of core deposit intangibles (less the related tax effect) and then dividing the resulting amount by average tangible equity for the period. Average tangible equity is determined by subtracting from average total shareholders' equity the average balance of intangible assets during the period, which were core deposit intangible assets and goodwill. We believe that disclosure of return on average tangible equity is beneficial as it provides an understanding of the operating results of our core business.

<sup>a</sup> Net interest margin is calculated by dividing annualized taxable equivalent net interest income by period average interest-earning assets. Interest income on tax-exempt securities and loans are presented on a taxable-equivalent basis using the Federal statutory rate of 21 percent.

<sup>f</sup> Tangible equity equals total shareholders' equity less goodwill and other intangible assets. Tangible book value per share divides tangible equity by period ending shares outstanding.
